

SOCIAL MATTERS.

What Well Known People are Doing—Personal Notes.

Mr. Alphonse von Mumm, first secretary of the German legation, entertained the German minister, Count d'Arco Valley, and the other members of the legation at a dinner at Welcker's on Saturday, the birthday of the late emperor. The guest of honor at the table was the Hon. Chas. Gibson of St. Louis, who lately received the decoration of the first class of the order of the royal crown from the emperor of Germany.

The ladies interested in the course of these readings held a large and enthusiastic first meeting at the hospitable home of Mrs. Hill, No. 1 Iowa circle, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Winslow of Boston, who read on Saturday, was a woman with a powerful voice that comes with strong effect in the vigorous passages. The selections were from the "Pillars of society." The next reading will be given on Saturday the 24th instant at the residence of Mrs. Fuller.

The men of the dancing class will give an assembly on the evening of Easter Monday, April 7, in honor of the chaplains and girls of the dancing class at Masonic temple.

Mrs. John W. Foster will entertain a company this afternoon at her home, when Mr. W. A. Browne of New York will read a paper upon "Savage music."

Mrs. Bakhmeteff will hold a reception today, which will be the last for a time.

Mrs. Seneca will give a charming tea for a number of her friends on Saturday afternoon. It was an informal affair, for which the invitations were verbally given.

Mrs. Dolph gave her last Thursday evening reception last week, but will continue to be at home on Monday afternoons, after 4 o'clock, until the 24th.

Mrs. John W. Foster will entertain a company this afternoon at her home, when Mr. W. A. Browne of New York will read a paper upon "Savage music."

Mrs. Bakhmeteff will hold a reception today, which will be the last for a time.

Mrs. Seneca will give a charming tea for a number of her friends on Saturday afternoon. It was an informal affair, for which the invitations were verbally given.

SHOOTING STARS.

It cost "Napoleon" Ives $10,000 for himself and partner to remain thirteen months in Ludlow street jail and he didn't get the jail either.

Jones—behind his newspaper: "A Patti opera party in fairly well style at the Metropolitan opera house, New York, this week will cost a man $300 per night."

Brown—in mild surprise: "Why is that?" Jones: "I don't know, unless it is that all the darn fools haven't left New York yet."

Tailor—looking over hills: "That fellow Slimy makes light of his obligations, doesn't he?" Collector—facetiously: "Yes, he lit the gas with the last one I handed him."

"I have crossed the rubicon," exclaimed the steady drinker when he could no longer wipe the red from his blushing nose.

Von Capri—to Hohenzollern: "William, my boy, don't Verrill's fair belt hit mid Chicago cod, night yet?" Hohenzollern: "Yah, I think so."

Von Capri—with sorrowful significance: "Under peer comes from Milwaukee, don't it?"

The Mississippi is rising again. Possibly New York could get the Mississippi and utilize it as a Grant monument.

WASHINGTON BASE BALL. We've lost the league. How sad our fate! Nought can our woes Ex 10 u s.

Our flesh is weak, Our will is grs To buck against This League of FS.

But all in vain, Our future is Is outside of The League of Eight.

Kilrain struck Sullivan for $20,000 and all he got was a thumping and a sentence in jail.

The Senators begin to believe in the you-know-young law of journalism.

Verona Doolly: "Dootah, I wish you would diagnose my case, don't you know. I believe I am suffering with brain fever."

Doctor—after brief examination: "Um—um you have a great deal of fever."

A Georgetown man sends in this touching and significant gem of poetry, which he calls: MAN'S WAY.

Does she love me, now, I wonder, Me that's old and ripe and mellow; Guess, I'd better stand from under, For some other fellow.

More I see of girls I wonder Why the green grows with the yellow; Guess I'd better stand from under, For some other fellow.

A REFORM CONFERENCE. Bishop and Mrs. Newman had been at home to their friends tomorrow from 4 to 7 p.m., at 1701 K street northwest.

The Literary Society and a number of invited guests were delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foster on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Andrews went to New York on Saturday evening for a few days' stay with relatives.

Mrs. O. C. Moore and Miss Moore will not receive tomorrow at 1325 Vermont avenue.

Mrs. Findlay Harris will be at home to-morrow to her friends, but will be the following evening at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Foster.

Mrs. H. S. Cummings and Miss Irvin will not be at home on Wednesday.

The Saturday Night whist club was delightfully entertained at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Haycock. At 11 o'clock an elegant supper of oysters, terrapin, etc., was served.

BAKERS QUIT WORK.

Journemen Make a Stand Against the New Regulations.

IN SEVERAL BAKERIES THE NEW LEAVE—EFFORTS TO FILL THEIR PLACES WITH BALTIMORE MEN—MEETINGS HELD TODAY AT LABOR HALL.

"Give us bread," was an appeal that morning, for there was not enough of that stuff to satisfy the demand. Four of the large bakeries had had to practically shut down until the trouble between the shops and the journeymen bakers has been settled one way or the other.

The meeting of the journeymen Saturday night at Edley's hall has already broken fruit, for last night the bakers in three of the establishments refused absolutely to sign their names to the obnoxious rules which the master bakers have placed on their walls, and as a result were told that they must sign or leave.

They left, Schneider's, Stohlman's and Schaeffer's had no bread mixed or kneaded last night. This morning all the drivers at Schneider's except two were told that their services were not needed. Two did report for duty and kept their jobs upon their own bread.

The rest stand by the bakers. They are members of the bakers' assembly.

At Schneider's they said they had about fifteen men at the troughs and announced that things would go on as usual there. The new men were non-union workers from Baltimore. Stohlman sent over to Baltimore this morning for a few men, but it is not yet known what success.

The bakers' assembly, K. of L., have a committee at work also in Baltimore to keep men coming over to fill the vacant places. At some of the bakeries there has been no trouble and none is expected.

At Havenner's establishment on C street the ovens are at work as usual. The men were told that they would be allowed to sign the rules and it is said, they are satisfied.

This morning the journeymen bakers held an open meeting at their hall corner 4th street and Pennsylvania avenue and the condition of affairs generally was discussed. A committee was sent to each of the bakeries to confer with the bosses and to explain to them that they must not expect the rules to be enforced until they have agreed to them.

The men, nine in all, including the apprentice boys, were told that they must sign the rules, and they were told that they must sign the rules, and they were told that they must sign the rules.

A CROWD OF "LOCKED-OUT" MEN. Labor hall was filled all day with men who are out of a job. They stood about in groups discussing the situation and awaiting the reports of the committees who were out to see the bosses.

They told a BNA reporter that they were not willing to sign the rules, and they were told that they must sign the rules, and they were told that they must sign the rules.

They said they were willing to do a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, and are willing to let things go on as they were before the strike.

They were told that they must sign the rules, and they were told that they must sign the rules, and they were told that they must sign the rules.
